Subject: Participants to the Senior High School Teachers Training on Strategies for Teaching Qualitative and Quantitative Research

1. Research activities initiated by teachers are a powerful way of enhancing learners' basic skills and attitude necessary for future professional practice. Inquiry and an evidence-based approach are complimentary processes in that they include recognition of important questions, search for the best research evidence, critical appraisal of the evidence, and application of the evidence to practice.
2. In order to sustain the quality of teaching research in the Schools Division, the training aims to relay additional knowledge on the best strategies in teaching both qualitative and quantitative research; assist teachers to demonstrate expected level of competence in teaching research; and direct teachers interest to boost their confidence in teaching research.
3. The training will be conducted at Highland Villa, Bokawkan Road, on ~~NOVEMBER~~ 27-29, 2018.
4. The following are the expected school participants with their specific number of SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL RESEARCH teacher/s to be identified by the school heads. Kindly text the complete name/s of the teacher participants to this number: 09187432221 on or before November 26, 2018.
